RICE SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE PARIS

GRADUATE STUDY IN PARIS

FALL SEMESTER 2013 OR SPRING SEMESTER 2014

Rice School of Architecture Paris was established in 2002 to provide study-abroad opportunities for RSA upper-level graduate and undergraduate students.

The program is now open to a very limited number of outstanding students in other accredited architecture programs who have taken at least 6 semesters of undergraduate studios, or 4 semesters of graduate studios. Those who have completed a BA in architecture or a BArch may also apply.

Applicants must demonstrate the highest levels of design and academic excellence, motivation and ability for independent work.

In addition to an advanced design studio on urban issues, students are given lectures and seminars on history, theory, technology, materials and methods. An intense documentary film-making course is also part of the curriculum, as are French language and culture instruction.

An organized study tour to other cities in France and Europe is an integral component of the program.

Students accepted from other programs are enrolled as visiting students at Rice University ($17,450/semester + $1,000 study tour fee) and receive 16 hours of academic credit, 10 hours for studio and 6 for electives.

Leading European practitioners, historians, and theoreticians conduct studios and classes, augmented by RSA Houston faculty.

RSAP is located in its own facility in the 12th arrondissement close to the Bastille and the Gare de Lyon. neighborhoods of Paris.

Housing and other living expenses are not included, but assistance is provided in locating apartments. Full details can be found in application documents.
